Property Description

Set in a much sought-after area on the fringe of the village of Kilchrenan, Tigh-An-Lochan, Plot 8, offers buyers an opportunity to acquire a prime residential plot, a wonderful opportunity for those looking to develop their dream home in this popular village location.

The plot is served by a shared access track, leading to the boundary which denotes the plot entrance. The land is mostly level, rising slightly to the rear with the natural contours of the land.

The plot benefits from detailed planning permission for the development of a single residential dwelling, details of which are available on the Argyll and Bute website under original planning reference 21/01634/PP.

The plans were recently amended to reconfigure the outbuilding, utilising an alternative roofing material. Further details can be found under planning reference 22/01644/NMA.

Kilchrenan supports several prestigious hotels, a church, village hall, a recently refurbished local inn and well-respected primary school. Secondary education is undertaken at Oban.

Everyday requirements can be found at Taynuilt approximately 6 miles to the north.

Taynuilt has a number of traditional stores including butcher, grocer and a Sub-Post Office. It has a modern doctor's surgery, police station, two churches, a golf course, a hotel and a tea-room.

The plot is a short distance from Loch Awe, one of Scotland's largest and most picturesque freshwater lochs with its wooded shores, ruined castle of Kilchurn and scattered small islands. It attracts numerous visitors to the area, renowned for its salmon and trout fishing, as well as enticing climbers and walkers drawn to the Cruachan and Ben Lui mountain ranges. The area is also popular with those keen on wildlife.

Further services are available in Oban, an expanding port with an attractive sea front and busy harbour, well known as the main Caledonian MacBrayne terminal and gateway to the isles.
