Introduction

Roepark is an attractive small holding located within the sought after hamlet of Little Brechin, in rural North Angus.

Set in a peaceful semi-rural setting and extending to approximately 4.32 acres, the property includes a useful range of buildings and offers an excellent lifestyle opportunity with potential to create a bespoke rural home.

Buildings & Land

The farm buildings at Roepark Holdings are situated to the west of the house and comprise a compact and practical range of predominantly modern agricultural buildings. Well laid out and easily accessible, the buildings are suitable for a variety of uses including livestock housing, machinery storage, or equestrian purposes. The buildings are served by mains water and electricity.

The land at Roepark Holdings extends to approximately 1.46 hectares (3.61 acres) of Grade 2 permanent pasture, divided into three field parcels. The land is well suited to livestock grazing or equestrian use and is enclosed by stock proof fencing comprising a mix of rabbit netting, rylock and plain wire. A mature, well established hedge provides shelter, privacy and clearly defines the north east boundary of the holding.

House

The accommodation extends to approximately 175.1 sq.m and is arranged over two floors. At ground floor level, there are two well-proportioned reception rooms, together with a kitchen fitted with wall and base units, a versatile office or potential ground-floor bedroom, and a generous family bathroom. An impressive sun room extends along the southern elevation and provides a bright and spacious additional living area. The first floor comprises two double bedrooms, both with built-in storage and enjoying attractive outlooks over the surrounding countryside.

To the front of the property, the garden is partially laid to lawn, bordered by hedging and complemented by a large patio accessed directly from the sun room. A large summerhouse is positioned within the eastern corner of the garden, creating a pleasant and private setting ideal for outdoor dining and relaxation. An outhouse adjoins the farmhouse on the west elevation and is of traditional stone construction beneath a slate roof with a concrete floor, providing useful additional storage. Externally, the property benefits from a generous gravel parking area to the north and west of the house, together with a traditional single garage.
